Your Partners in Health and Safety

The Building Safety Group

Training

The Building Safety Group (BSG) is dedicated to delivering the highest standards in Health, Safety and Environmental training for the building and construction sector. All of BSG's trainers are professional, highly qualified and have long-term experience of working in the industry. We run a full range of courses based at our regional training centres located throughout the country. We can also run courses at your premises as required.

So please take a look at the training programme we are currently running and let us know which courses are best suited to your needs. As a not for profit organisation, we guarantee that all of our courses are competitively priced to ensure that you receive the best value. If you can't find what you're looking for here, take a look at our website www.bsgltd.co.uk to view the full BSG training schedule as well as details about course dates and fees. You may also wish to learn more about the Health and Safety membership consultancy services we provide, as well as our CDM Coordinator fulfillment package.
